Skills for Psychological Recovery Instructor Training Program

The Skills for Psychological Recovery (SPR) Train-the-Trainer program is an opportunity for individuals to become an instructor of Skills for Psychological Recovery. This program will require a pre-work phase and attending a two-day face-to-face meeting on 2nd & 3rd December 2011. Upon successful completion of the Instructor program, it is expected that participants will conduct trainings on SPR within their community as well as provide direct service by implementing SPR.

Deadline of enrolment: 9th November 2011

Expectations of Participants

Participants will

- Attend and participate in the Skills for Psychological Recovery Train-the-Trainer face to face meeting
- Follow a standardized training protocol when delivering SPR training
- Conduct at least 2 trainings on SPR within 6 months of completing the training
- Report on the number of trainings delivered and participant evaluations of those trainings
- Read the SPR Field Operations Guide as part of the pre-work phase activities

Preferred Applicant Eligibility Criteria

Participants must fulfill the following criteria:

- i) Pledge to learn and be familiar with the SPR Guide (the Guide will be provided after application is accepted);
- ii) Hold qualification(s) in mental health profession(s);
- iii) Experience as a trainer/supervisor.

Priority will be given to those that fulfilled the following criteria:

- i) Attended the PFA workshop organized by AsianSTSS in 2010 or completed the free on-line training of PFA in the website of NCTSN with certificate proof. Please click onto <http://learn.nctsn.org/course/category.php?id=11> for more details;
- ii) Nomination by agencies that pledge to provide training/services in health/disaster work;
- iii) At least 50 hours of experience in performing SPR-related work after critical incident/disasters, i.e., providing support to trauma/disaster survivors in the recovery phase of the incident (written proof from agencies with official chop required).
